Item 1.02 Termination of a Material Definitive Agreement

On January 30, 2018, Western Digital Corporation, a Delaware corporation (“Western Digital”), issued conditional notices of redemption in respect of all of its outstanding 7.375% senior secured notes due 2023 (the “2023 Notes”) and its outstanding 10.500% senior unsecured notes due 2024 (the “2024 Notes” and collectively with the 2023 Notes, the “Existing Notes”). In its previously announced cash tender offer, Western Digital offered to purchase any and all of its outstanding 2024 Notes, which resulted in Western Digital accepting for purchase $2,724,957,000 in aggregate principal amount of the 2024 Notes as of the tender offer expiration date.

On February 27, 2018, Western Digital deposited sufficient funds with the trustee for the 2023 Notes to pay the redemption price payable in respect of all outstanding 2023 Notes (including accrued and unpaid interest on the 2023 Notes to, but excluding, the redemption date). On March 1, 2018, Western Digital deposited sufficient funds with the trustee for the 2024 Notes, to pay the redemption price payable in respect of all 2024 Notes outstanding on the redemption date (including accrued and unpaid interest on the 2024 Notes to, but excluding, the applicable redemption date). The amounts deposited with respect to the 2023 Notes and 2024 Notes included “make-whole” premiums required for the optional redemption of the Existing Notes under, and calculated in accordance with, the applicable indentures.

As a consequence of the foregoing, (x) Western Digital satisfied and discharged its obligations under the indenture under which the 2023 Notes were issued (the “2023 Notes Indenture”) and the related security documents in accordance with the satisfaction and discharge provisions of the 2023 Notes Indenture and (y) Western Digital satisfied and discharged its obligations under the indenture under which the 2024 Notes were issued (the “2024 Notes Indenture”) in accordance with the satisfaction and discharge provisions of the 2024 Notes Indenture. Upon the satisfaction and discharge of (x) the 2023 Notes Indenture on February 27, 2018, all of the liens on the collateral securing the 2023 Notes were released and Western Digital and the guarantors were discharged from their respective obligations under the 2023 Notes and the guarantees thereof and (y) the 2024 Notes Indenture on March 1, 2018, Western Digital and the guarantors were discharged from their respective obligations under the 2024 Notes and the guarantees thereof.

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE:

WESTERN DIGITAL ANNOUNCES REDEMPTION OF ALL OUTSTANDING 10.500% SENIOR UNSECURED NOTES DUE 2024 AND 7.375% SENIOR SECURED NOTES DUE 2023 AND SUCCESSFUL EXECUTION OF TRANSACTIONS TO ENHANCE CAPITAL STRUCTURE

SAN JOSE, Calif. — Mar. 2, 2018 — Western Digital Corporation (NASDAQ: WDC) (“Western Digital” or the “company”) today announced that, in connection with the successful completion of previously disclosed transactions, it has redeemed all of its outstanding 10.500% senior unsecured notes due 2024 (the “2024 Notes”) and on Feb. 27, 2018, all of its outstanding 7.375% senior secured notes due 2023 (the “2023 Notes” and collectively with the 2024 Notes, the “Existing Notes”) and satisfied and discharged its obligations under the respective indentures.

Western Digital’s previously announced cash tender offer to purchase any and all of its outstanding 2024 Notes resulted in its accepting for purchase $2,724,957,000 in aggregate principal amount of the 2024 Notes as of the tender offer expiration date on Feb. 27, 2018. The redemption of the remaining 2024 Notes was funded by net proceeds from Western Digital’s previously announced offering of $2.3 billion aggregate principal amount of 4.750% senior notes due 2026 (the “4.750% Notes”), which closed on Feb. 13, 2018, together with available cash on hand. The redemption of the 2023 Notes was funded by net proceeds from the company’s previously announced $1.0 billion aggregate principal amount of 1.50% convertible senior notes due 2024, which closed on Feb. 13, 2018, with initial purchasers exercising in full their option to purchase an additional $100 million of the 1.50% convertible senior notes due 2024 on Feb. 16, 2018, the proceeds of its previously announced new $5.022 billion term loan A-1 facility maturing in 2023, reflecting a $1.0 billion increase over its previous term loan A facility, which closed on Feb. 27, 2018, and available cash on hand.

In addition, as previously announced, on Feb. 27, 2018, Western Digital obtained commitments for a $2.25 billion revolving credit facility maturing 2023, reflecting a $750 million increase in the size of its revolver, and borrowed $500 million thereunder to fund a voluntary prepayment of its existing USD term B-3 loan.

As a result of these financing transactions, based on the current capital structure and a current LIBOR rate of 1.67%, the company expects to reduce its GAAP annual interest expense to approximately $435 million to $440 million, compared to $808 million in the last twelve months ended Dec. 29, 2017. Annual non-GAAP interest expense, which excludes approximately $25 million to $30 million of noncash economic interest associated with the company's convertible notes, is expected to be approximately $410 million to $415 million.

Non-GAAP Financial Measure

The company believes the presentation of non-GAAP interest expense, when shown in conjunction with the corresponding GAAP measure, provides useful information to investors for measuring the company's financing cost and comparing it against prior periods. Specifically, the company believes non-GAAP interest expense provides useful information to both management and investors as it excludes certain noncash interest which is consistent with the financial models and estimates published by many analysts who follow the company and its peers and the company believes non-GAAP interest expense along with the related GAAP interest expense measure provide additional detail and comparability for assessing the company's results. Non-GAAP interest expense is one of the primary indicators management uses for assessing the company's performance and planning and forecasting future periods. Non-GAAP interest expense is not in accordance with, or an alternative for, interest expense prepared in accordance with GAAP and may be different from similarly titled measures used by other companies. Non-GAAP interest expense should be considered in addition to results prepared in accordance with GAAP, but should not be considered a substitute for, or superior to, GAAP results.
