Item 9. Regulation FD Disclosure.

In meetings with analysts on December 4 and 5, 2003 at the Credit Suisse First Boston 2003 Annual Technology Conference, the company expects to provide an update on certain current conditions in the hard drive industry. This update will be consistent with the presentation which will be given at the conference on December 5, 2003 (live and archived webcasts of the December 5, 2003 presentation will be available in the Investor Relations section of the company's website at <, presentations page).

Specifically, the company will indicate that for both the industry and for the company, overall demand across all geographies and channels is at a level expected in a seasonally strong December quarter. In addition, OEM demand has met expectations and distribution sell-through has improved from slower rates in October. Pricing has been consistent with a balanced supply and demand condition and the industry has not experienced allocation at this point in the quarter. The company will also indicate that December sell-through levels, demand and pricing will determine the outcome of the quarter, and typical seasonal improvement in sell-through is anticipated.

This filing contains forward-looking statements, including statements relating to factors that will determine the outcome of the quarter and anticipated sell-through. The forward-looking statements are based on current management expectations, and actual results may differ materially as a result of several factors, including: difficulties in ramping to volume production a new, complex head manufacturing operation; availability and cost of specialized product components; levels of operating expense and product cost; supply and demand conditions in the hard drive industry; uncertainties related to the development and introduction of products based on new technologies; changes in product and customer mix; pricing trends; actions by competitors; successful entry into new markets by the company; and other factors discussed in our recent SEC filings, including but not limited to our Form 10-K for fiscal 2003. We undertake no obligation to update our forward-looking statements to reflect new information or events or for any other reason.
